

Literacy Unlimited is a local non-profit organization that offers FREE one-on-one tutoring to adults with low literacy skills.

We are currently housed in Lindsay Place High School and have been in existence for over 30 years.

Our catchment area is the same as the Lester B. Pearson School Board and the demand for our services grows every day.

We are constantly looking for Volunteer tutors. The commitment is 2 hour per week from September to June. We are also looking for volunteers to serve on our Board of Directors.

Historically we have found some of our best and most dedicated tutors are retired teachers.

Is tutoring a good fit for me?

We are currently looking for Adult Literacy Tutors. Teaching experience, while an asset, is not required. Many of the skills and qualities you already possess will help you in this role: adaptability, creativity, patience, enthusiasm and commitment.

Adult Literacy Tutors

- must participate in an 8-hour tutor training workshop run by Literacy Unlimited
- will receive on-going support and training
- meet with their learners once or twice a week (approximately 2 hours per session), for at least one year
- are patient, flexible, organized, and open to different lifestyles and learning preferences
- are part of a tutor/learner team, supporting the learner in setting and reaching goals
- are comfortable using a computer
